The acclaimed documentary "Fehujali" was showcased at the prestigious 16th Jaipur International Film Festival 2024 on February 9, drawing a full house that included renowned film personalities, critics, and movie enthusiasts. Notably, the film secured the Best Short Documentary award at the festival, recognized as the largest competitive Film Festival globally.

Despite stiff competition with 2971 entries from 82 nations, 326 films from 67 countries were nominated. Eventually, 71 films from 19 countries were selected for JIFF 24, setting a world record.

'Fehujali' again made a significant mark by winning the Best Short Documentary award at the 7th New Delhi Film Festival on March 28, 2024. Produced by the Director General of Police, Assam, 'Fehujali' is directed by Dr Partha Sarathi Mahanta who is currently posted as IGP (Special Task Force), Assam with English subtitles curated by Dr Jovial Kalita.

The documentary delves into the plight of underprivileged youths in the state, targeted by extremist groups as potential recruits through various coercive tactics, including the lure of money. Once inducted, these youths quickly discern the futility of their so-called mission to liberate Assam from India. They realize they are pawns manipulated by certain foreign powers exploiting misplaced patriotism, leading them to return home disillusioned with the initially promised dreams.

Naree Vandana

The Department of History at DMM orchestrated a poignant event on Women's Day on 7th March, 2024 at Room no 10 (Dpt. Of History) aimed at honoring the remarkable achievements of women, facilitating the exchange of experiences, and reiterating our unwavering dedication to gender equality. Dubbed as Naree Vandana, the event was presided over by Dr. Pintu Roy, the Head of the Department, who also delivered the opening remarks, setting the tone for the gathering. Dr. Pulak Gogoi, the Assistant Professor of the department, initiated the proceedings, guiding the audience through a series of insightful presentations and discussions. With the participation of three faculty members and twenty students from different semesters, the event brimmed with enthusiasm and scholarly engagement. Students seized the opportunity to spotlight influential women and their contributions, with presentations ranging from the accolades of Tage Rita, an agricultural engineer from Arunachal Pradesh, to the courageous endeavours of Chandra Prabha Saikiani, an Assamese freedom fighter and social reformer. The program also featured a variety of artistic expressions, including a captivating song performance by Sandhamoni Mech and Robina Boro, underscoring the multifaceted celebration of womanhood. Dr. Pulak Gogoi delivered a compelling keynote address emphasizing the fundamental rights, freedoms, and equality of women, further enriching the discourse. As the event drew to a close, Dr. Pintu Roy offered concluding remarks, emphasizing the significance of honoring women's achievements and perpetuating efforts towards gender parity. An Educational Tour to Historic Sivsagar: A City of Historical Significance

The Department of History, Digboi Mahila Mahavidyalaya (DMM) organized a captivating field study trip to Sivsagar on 21st February, 2024, a city located in Upper Assam, rich with historical significance. The trip aimed to provide students with a firsthand experience of the region's historical marvels and deepen their understanding of Assam's cultural heritage. The trip was convened under the guidance of Dr. Pintu Roy, HoD and assisted by Dr. Pulak Gogoi, Ms. Meghali Baruah and Ms. Labonya Baruah, Assistant Professor, Department of History, DMM. A total number of 20 students participated in the field trip.

The journey commenced with a visit to the iconic Sivadol, located at the heart of the city, a magnificent temple dedicated to Lord Shiva. Students marvelled at the intricate architectural design and learned about the temple's historical importance in Ahom architecture.

The students also visited Tai Museum, situated on the bank of historic Sivsagar Tank. They were thrilled by the unique and iconic presentation of rich heritage and traditions of the Tai ethnic groups. The Museum serves as a repository of artifacts, documents, and exhibits related to Tai history, art, and lifestyle.

Next on our itinerary was the Rang Ghar, a unique amphitheater constructed by the Ahom kings for hosting cultural and sporting events. Students were fascinated by its octagonal shape and the stories behind its construction, reflecting the vibrant cultural heritage of the region.

Our exploration continued with a visit to the Talatal Ghar, an ancient Ahom palace known for its distinct architecture and underground tunnels. Students delved into the history of the Ahom dynasty and gained insights into the lifestyle of royalty during that era.

The field trip to Sivsagar proved to be an enriching experience for students of the Department of History of our college. It offered a fascinating journey through time, allowing them to witness firsthand the legacy of the Ahom dynasty and the cultural tapestry of Assam. Such immersive experiences play a vital role in nurturing a holistic understanding of history and fostering a lifelong passion for exploration and discovery.

On March 10, 2024, the Department of Philosophy organized an academic tour to Majuli, the largest river island in the world, situated in the Brahmaputra River in the Indian state of Assam. The tour aimed to provide students with a practical understanding of philosophical concepts through immersion in the cultural and environmental ethos of Majuli.

Thirty-two enthusiastic students accompanied by three dedicated faculty members embarked on this enriching journey. The trip commenced early in the morning, with participants brimming with excitement and anticipation. Upon arrival at Majuli, the group was greeted by the serene beauty of the island, characterized by its lush greenery, serene landscapes, and vibrant cultural heritage.

Throughout the day, students engaged in various activities designed to deepen their philosophical insights. They visited ancient monasteries, interacted with local artisans to understand the essence of craftsmanship, and explored the rich tapestry of Assamese culture through traditional music and dance performances. Moreover, students had the opportunity to reflect on the philosophical implications of environmental conservation and sustainable living practices, as Majuli faces the imminent threat of erosion due to river dynamics and climate change.

As a culmination of their experiential learning, each student was tasked with crafting a project report encapsulating their observations, reflections, and learning from the tour. The topics ranged from the existentialist underpinnings of Assamese folklore to the ethics of environmental stewardship in indigenous communities. Following their return, all 32 students diligently worked on their project reports, synthesizing their experiences into insightful narratives.
